Piano/Keyboard Lessons at the DRMC

Jenny Royle, B.Mus.Hons(Uni Melb), Grad Dip Ed (Music), Ass.Dip.Ed.

Jenny Royle founded 'Just Play Music' and teaches students of all ages, including early years and adult learners. She has taught and directed music programs in schools and universities, including theory, aural and VCE preparation. Jenny is passionate about teaching students to be creative and imaginative, and loves to encourage learning with play and composition activities that work with students individual learning styles and level. Jenny has many students who continue to learn piano for personal enjoyment, including students who have entered the music profession. She understands the balance between music learning and busy lives, and is always able to tailor programs that maximize progress and enjoyment.

Fun and Success!

We offer a range of lesson packages suited to all learners. Introductory starter packages cater for those interested in getting a fun start, introducing the first learning basics to kick start your musical pathway. For those who need to review or extend their skills, we offer a refresher course to help you move to the next stage. Many students remain in the program term by term, and work towards achieving some great musical goals, including preparation for AMEB exams and performances!

Lessons with Jenny at DRMC Studio Wed-Fri, or home studio/home tutoring by arrangement.
